Partnering for success

Vashon has partnered with Wells Fargo Advisors, a financial services company in our neighborhood, and the St. Louis Public Schools Foundation to help our students succeed. Together we're making a long-term commitment to help each student live the life they want by forming a step-by-step program that encourages learning and rewards efforts through:

- Tutoring in reading and math
- Financial literacy
- Workshops for parents and teachers
- Incentive programs to mark progress

Focusing on academics

Our faculty is dedicated to preparing you for life after high school. Many of our teachers come from our neighborhood and are Vashon graduates. They are invested in your success, the school's success and our community's success. They will be there for you academically and personally – to push you to achieve more and support you when you stumble.

Vashon has a block schedule for classes with four, 90-minute classes a day. This gives you more time to focus on fewer subjects per semester but still graduate with all the requirements you need. Our classes are interactive to keep you engaged, whether through performing a play in English class, designing computer or art projects, or producing your own video.

Building on a tradition

Founded in 1927, Vashon High School was one of the first high schools for African-Americans west of the Mississippi. Vashon now draws all students from across the St. Louis area, enrolling approximately 820 students. Moving to a new, state-of-the-art facility in 2002, the school includes a swimming pool, theater, competition and practice basketball courts, and practice field.

We want each student to grow academically, socially and morally to become a caring member of the community. We are committed to providing quality instruction to all students so they attain the knowledge and skills to secure meaningful employment or further their education. Our staff is dedicated to preparing our students to become good citizens, productive employees and life-long learners.

Set yourself on the right path for long-term success.

George and John Boyer Vashon

Vashon High School was named in honor of educators George Boyer Vashon and his son John. George – an attorney, poet and educator – fought for the emancipation and education of African-Americans in the mid-1850s. He was the first African-American graduate of Oberlin College and professor at Howard University. His son John came to St. Louis in 1887 to be principal of Colored School No. 10 and went on to spend 34 years working for the St. Louis public schools.
