Ms. McCord's fifth grade class performs.

ANNUAL ART EXHIBIT AT THE ST. LOUIS ZOO'S LIVING WORLD

Lyon Academy Art Teacher, Mrs. DeLeon has been quietly helping her students, pre-K through 8th grade, master the materials and techniques behind award-winning visual art. St. Louis Public Schools and the St. Louis Zoo have once again partnered to provide a beautiful and high-profile showcase for outstanding examples of visual art created by St. Louis Public School students. Not all of the excellent pieces submitted for consideration are accepted for the month-long showing in the gallery of the Zoo's Living World. In the case of Mrs. DeLeon and her students, they generally DO WIN awards. This is exactly what happened again this year. Congratulations!!!

A pre-school student takes-on Ms. D's assignment!

8th grade computer literacy students Clyde and John demonstrate “how it’s done.”

Final desktop publishing project from graduating 8th grade student, Jesse. See additional student projects on Mr. Phoenix’s SLPS Lyon Academy Teacher page. You may use the following short-cut: www.ligerlink.com to get to the Lyon Academy Page. Click “Teachers,” “Mike Phoenix,” and when you reach his web-page, select Computer Literacy. See you there!

Another wonderful piece of original art from Mrs. DeLeon’s art class. This multimedia piece was created by kindergarten student, Samantha. According to Mrs. D, “No child is too young to learn to express him or herself through art!” We agree!

From The Principal’s Desk
 Have a wonderful Summer Break! We will return refreshed and ready to learn. We look forward to seeing our teachers and staff beginning on August 4, 2014 and the return of all of our students on the very first day of school, Monday, August 11, 2014.
