It's a Bar Chart Race! Who's going to win the test score race?

Instructions: Use the graph area below to create a bar chart for your test scores. Get your scores with dates from your teacher or test coordinator. Write the Test Date in the left-hand column. Next to this date, draw and color in a bar that matches your score. Write the score to the right of the bar. One example of a bar is provided to help you get started. Draw a straight line from the top to the bottom to indicate your goal for your score during the next test.

Note: Each square unit is equal to 0.5 (½) of a grade equivalency (GE) point.
