RFP #026-1819 Data Warehouse and Performance Dashboard

Scope of Services

Background

Overview:

Saint Louis Public Schools (SLPS) is implementing a District-wide portfolio strategy which incorporates accountability and concomitantly, facilitates autonomy. Because schools can control their climate and instructional program, they can be held accountable for whether students learn. The district's primary role is performance assessment and portfolio management: it identifies high-performing schools and either expands them or starts more schools like them. The district also identifies schools in which children are consistently learning a lot less than similar children elsewhere, and it makes sure those students have alternatives in existing or new schools."

The Saint Louis Public Schools seeks an external partner to work collaboratively with the District to develop a Data Warehouse and Performance Dashboard that can be used to monitor the progress of the Goals of SLPS Transformation Plan and its associated objectives, strategies, and mechanism for tracking progress and alignment.

Scope of the Services

The Data Warehouse and Performance Dashboard would monitor the progress at the student, class, school and district levels. The warehouse/dashboard solution must be capable of providing web-based access to data and information while generating reports and analyses promptly.

At the core of the Data Warehouse and Performance Dashboard must be a "value-added" growth model for each student. This model should reasonably predict the growth that each student is expected to make in an academic year, controlling for appropriate variables, and isolate the cause of that student's actual growth. To this end, the external partner will guide the District on the reliability and validity of the assessments and metrics used to track student achievement and growth, the rigor and relevance of program performance reports and a methodology for evaluating the effectiveness of new programs and initiatives.

The external partner would be retained over multiple years to develop and maintain the new student value-added growth model tracking and reporting system. Critical pieces of the project include: 1) data warehouse and dashboard system accessible from both desktop and mobile devices in web-based (and Cloud) formats, 2) a local student value-added growth model for the SLPS and 3) ongoing consultation to assist us in developing a balanced assessment model.

Deliverables

1. Design and implement a data warehouse that incorporates the following features:
 - Cloud-based and secure,
 - Accessible on desktop and mobile platforms either through the web, or native apps,
 - Integration and storage of data from a variety of systems,
 - Direct entry of data by teachers,
 - Capable of data import and export,
 - Analytics exportable to Excel, and
 - Flexible reporting that is customizable by user.

2. Design and implement a data dashboard providing access to data by subject, student, teacher, grade, school and district.

Dashboards should provide context-sensitive reports based on the category of user (e.g., principals, teachers, central administration). Dashboard must be “browser agnostic”, capable of running in any current generation browser used with Windows and Apple operating systems and on mobile devices such as, but not limited to, IOS (iPads, iPods, iPhone) and android devices.

- Dashboard graphically displays a variety of data types including:
 - Assessments: Results from assessments and standardized tests, which includes state and federal tests and local assessments,
 - Absolute level of achievement,
 - Level of achievement adjusted for student need,
 - Achievement gap closure among designated student subgroups: Includes the ability to create cohort groups and view academic achievement over time,
 - Graduation rates: This area would include information on students graduating on time, students dropping out and contributing variables which affect dropout rates,
 - Postsecondary and career readiness,
 - Assessment sub scores,
- Special Education: Relates to information about students with IEP plans; Instructional Needs: Includes developing indicators around instructional needs as an extension of the priority placed on local assessments. Analysis of assessment results would be used to identify instructional levels and needs of students or groups of students,
- Risk Factors: Displays students who are deemed “at risk” due to a combination of academic, behavioral, attendance, and/or other factors,
- Interventions: Includes a history of interventions (treatments) that have been used with a student, as well as information about the success or failure of these interventions,
 - Behavior indicators tied to discipline referrals and discipline incidents, discipline action details and discipline as it correlates to dropping out of school and the disruption of instruction
- Aligns to metrics tracked by the District Transformation Plan,
- Allows for disaggregation by all federally mandated student subgroups,
- Capability for tracking custom subgroups (groups of students or classes), and
- Benchmarking against other students, classes, school, and districts.

3. Growth Model

- Given the diversity of the district it is vital that the dashboard include an analytical tool using data from a variety of assessments to monitor student academic growth.
- The growth model:
 - Would be developed and managed by the partner,
 - Set performance targets on any given assessment based on grade level standards and projected “catch up” targets for students performing below standard,
 - Be available to all end users, and
 - Provide a comparison of expected growth to actual growth.

4. Multi-year work plan including ongoing consulting services with deliverable and metrics for gauging effectiveness of partnership:

- Ongoing management of data warehouse,

- Maintain alignment with an evolving District Transformation Plan,
- Revisions to dashboard based on emerging needs of users, and
- Development of “purpose built” analytical models (e.g. the relationship between resource allocation and student performance or metrics to monitor student social-emotional learning and growth).
