

ESOL Choice Board for Grades 9-12

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
Franklin Delano Roosevelt, often called FDR, was the 32nd president of the United States. He gave a series of recorded speeches on the radio during his presidency (1933-1945) called "Fireside Chats." Using this new media form, he was able to communicate with the American people during a dark and uncertain time in the nation's history. Click here for some additional background on FDR and the New Deal We're going to closely analyze one of the Fireside chats over the course of this week.	Meet the Recording Click here to listen to the recording (start at 0:41). Click here to look at a transcript of the document What do you hear when you listen to the recording? Circle all that apply:  What is the title? Write that here: _____	Observe the Parts of the Recording Click here to listen to the recording (start at 0:41). Click here to look at a transcript of the document Who do you hear in the sound recording? Write your answer here: I hear _____ in the sound recording. What was the sound recording about? Write your answer here: The sound recording was about _____. Write one sentence to describe the sound recording here: _____ _____	Try to Make Sense of the Recording Click here to listen to the recording (start at 0:41). Click here to look at a transcript of the document What was happening in history at the time this recording was made? Write your answer here: _____ _____ Who do you think made the sound recording? Write your answer here: I think _____ made the sound recording. Who do you think was supposed to hear this sound recording? Write your answer here: I think _____ was supposed to hear the sound recording.	Use the recording as historical evidence Click here to listen to the recording (start at 0:41). Click here to look at a transcript of the document Where do you think you could find out more information about the people or topics in this recording? Write your answer here: _____ _____ What did you find out from this sound recording that you might not learn anywhere else? Write your answer here: _____ _____

	What does the title tell you about the recording? Write your answer here: The title tells me about the sound recording.		How do you think the creator of the recording wanted the audience to respond? Write your answer here: I think the creator wanted
--	--	--	---	--