

ESOL Choice Board for Grades 9-12

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
The internet is full of fascinating long form non-fiction articles. You can read about nearly any topic. Click here to access an article about a phenomenon that affected high school and college students until very recently Survey Take 30 seconds to scan this article. Write down a short phrase that captures what you think this article will be about: <hr/> 	Question Click through to the article from yesterday. What is one question you think may be answered by reading this text? Write it here: <hr/> Predict Before you read, write down 2 concepts/topics you think you will learn about when you read this article (For example, technology, education, etc.). Write them here: 1) 2)	Read Click through to the article from Monday. Read it! Remember to check into any new-to-you words using a dictionary, click here to use Longman's. 	Re-read Re-read the article. This time, as you read, look back at your question and your predictions. Can you answer your question? If so, jot down the answer near to where you wrote your question. Can you expand on your learning predictions? If so, add some explanatory notes near to where you wrote your predictions.	Summarize Write down a short 3-5 sentence summary of the article. Using this strategy can help you understand and retain the information you are given in a text. Bonus: Try this again with another article! Click here to visit a site with more than 10,000 articles on various topics- scroll through the tags to find a topic you're interested in, click to see the available articles, choose one and jump in! 