Click here to listen to "Happy in Our Skin" by Fran Manushkin. The story joyfully celebrates the diverse types of skin people have. Share your favorite part of the story with a friend or family member, discussing the aspects that resonated with you and the importance of appreciating our differences.

 What was your favorite part of the story? "My favorite part of the story was learning about skin. Skin serves as our body's protective layer. As we grow, our skin expands and heals when we experience falls or injuries. Additionally, some people have unique skin features such as freckles, birthmarks, and dimples."

 What did you learn?? "I learned that sewing requires a sewing pattern, fabric, notions, and a sewing machine. There are various types of fabric, including cotton, denim, knitted fabric, lace, and chiffon. Notions refer to the essential tools for sewing, such as scissors, measuring tape, and thread, among others."

 "After watching the video, I attempted to roll my r's, which I found challenging. My friend who speaks Spanish translated some words and phrases for me. For instance, "Hi, how are you?" translates to "¿Hola! ¿Cómo estás?" and "Maya is my best friend" translates to "Maya es mi mejor amiga."
