AMI/Virtual Day for Tuesday, January 7, 2025

St. Louis, MO – Due to ongoing severe weather conditions in our region, all schools in Saint Louis Public Schools will transition to an Alternative Methods of Instruction (AMI)/virtual learning day tomorrow, Tuesday, January 7, 2025.

This means all students will engage in learning remotely, following their established schedules.

Administrators, secretaries, custodians, safety and security, and 801 staff are expected to return to work tomorrow as usual. Staff is encouraged to move at the speed of safety and report when possible. We understand that some streets have not been cleared. If this impacts any members of staff, we ask that they please return home, stay safe, and notify their supervisor.

Extracurricular activities, including athletic practices and after-school programs, remain canceled for the day.
