MEN OF TOMORROW
HEALTH CAREERS CAMP
2015

The “Men of Tomorrow Health Careers Camp” is an opportunity for minority male students to learn about careers in the health care industry. Students will have male mentors who are currently working in the allied health areas. Sessions will include hands-on activities, tours, and soft skills preparation for the workplace environment.

St Louis Public Schools offer Career and Technical Education opportunities for high school students. Many of the programs help establish an outstanding foundation in the Health Science arena. Common knowledge and skills in coursework and experiences best prepare students for career success.

Building a foundation for career success is the mission of the St Louis Public Schools Career and Technical Education Division.
