

CREATIVE WRITING

Bubash

COMMUNICATION

with the teacher

1 ANGELA.BUBASH@SLPS.ORG

2 ROOM 307

QUICK FACTS

to be successful

Your grade will be 50% classwork

& 50%
Your final Piece of the quarter

Put your Phone away

NO
HOMEWORK

Keep a notebook

BE KIND

Breaking it down
Quarter by Quarter!

NARRATIVE

1st quarter

2nd
quarter

FICTION
Short Story

POETRY

3rd
quarter

4th
quarter

PLAYWRITING
SCREENWRITING

COURSE OBJECTIVE

Hi guys! I am so happy you are here and taking one of my VERY favorite classes! Your objective here in Creative Writing is simple: I want you all to learn to LOVE to write! This class isn't about writing research papers or analyzing data. It's not even about grammar. (Heck, sometimes imperfect grammar is BETTER) This class is about expressing yourself and your imagination through your pen and paper. I just want you to turn off your inner critic and write FREELY and JOYFULLY. We will divide the course into four quarters with four specific goals:

1. A Creative Nonfiction piece all about YOU
2. A Short Story
3. A LOT of poems
4. A One Act Play or Short Film

WARNING: YOU WILL WRITE A LOT IN THIS CLASS... LIKE A LOT. (It will be fun. I promise.)

SHARING your work & ideas

One of the most important (and scariest) parts of Creative Writing is sharing your work and ideas with others.

To receive full credit in this class, YOU MUST SHARE AT LEAST ONCE EVERY TWO WEEKS.

It is completely up to you what you share. It can be a piece of writing, a do now, or even just an idea or opinion. If you are uncomfortable with this, reach out to me and we will set up a time for you to share with me privately.

REMEMBER!!!

This class is NOT about being the best writer in the room. It's about using your imagination and leaving better than you came

NOW, LET'S GET CREATIVE

& have a bit of fun