SHARITING

Celebrating Culture

Gateway STEM celebrated the many cultures of our student body this November. This included many countries, including Nepal, Mexico, Bosnia, and others. Nearly one-third of our student body has ties to two or more countries.

All Culture Day photos were taken by Logan Allgood.

Mohesh Nepal and Alina Khadka Chhetri.

Anatomical Bitmojis

Athena Blair's First Year Medical Assistant students (juniors) are reinforcing what they have learned about body plans and directional terms in the hands-on activity. They are doing a candy dissection and a Twinkie surgery. Before doing this activity, they made Anatomical Bitmojis of themselves with the new medical terminology they have been working on.

Gateway ROBOTICS

Story by Charlie Blair. Photos by Axel Hornburg.

Gateway's Robotics team had our first League Meet of the season on Saturday. Our team played six and won five of them. Our team is ranked #1 in our league. Our next Meet will be on December 9th at Gateway.

Our team is comprised of members from the following schools: Gateway STEM High School, Metro Classical and Academic High School, Collegiate School of Medicine and Bioscience High School, and Word of Life Lutheran School.

Gateway

Speaker

Former Denver Broncos Defensive Lineman and Super Bowl (50) Champion, Sylvester Williams, gives the Gateway Jaguars football players some "Words of Wisdom" and shares his life story with the team before their playoff game last Friday. Williams is a St. Louis native. Student Tylin Moore said, "His journey was ridiculous."

Desiree Camel loves her job at the GM Wentzville Assembly. She has been with them for nearly ten years.

Despite this, she wants better working conditions for all. This includes temporary and part-time employees. This led her to strike.

Thankfully, the United Auto Workers (UAW) ended its six-week strike against General Motors (GM) in Wentzville, Missouri on Monday, October 30. The strike ended after a tentative agreement was reached between the union and GM. The UAW's strike won record pay increases for workers at the Detroit Three automakers.
