Agenda

I do:

- Questions about the current project?

We do:

- Book Covers are due today. There will be no more class time to work on this.
- Talk about new project based on the work of Kara Walker.
- Brainstorm different current events happening in our world today.
- Talk about what supplies we would need to use while working on this assignment.

You do:

- Turn in any Book Covers at end of class. There is no more class time to be working on this. (After today, the turn in links will no longer be on our agenda pages. You will need to go through the assignments to turn them in.)
- Brainstorm different current events that are happening in our work today.
- Access the link to Padlet and start working on the different topics at hand. Be ready to discuss them and how they would relate to how Kara Walker would create her images.
- Decides which topic you think would best work for you and start coming up with a plan in silhouette form to execute your images. How would you/what would you use? What are types of things you could use?
- For your exit ticket today, you will need to fill out the form below and answer a few questions on what you are planning to do.
